Institute of Water: Company Membership

This comprehensive package is designed to support every part of the water industry, including water companies, regulators, suppliers, and contractors.

It brings together the benefits of individual memberships with organisation-wide advantages, making it easier for companies to invest in the professional growth and development of their employees.

Why choose this package?

For years, the Institute of Water has provided a company affiliate package tailored for suppliers and contractors.

We've now expanded and enhanced this offering to include water and wastewater companies and regulators, delivering greater value and comprehensive support for your staff's professional journey. By joining IWater you get focused support for professional development, networking, and employee engagement. And resources to cultivate a learning culture and uphold ethical standards within your organisation.

Flexible Pricing Structure

Our pricing model reflects the added value and flexibility of the package. Costs are based on your company size:

1-50 employees: £500 +
discounted individual memberships

51-500 employees: £750 +
discounted individual memberships

501+ employees: £1,200 +
discounted individual memberships
